

This is a standalone business case component demonstration.

This is a standalone business case component demonstration.

This is a demonstration of the `business_case` component. It renders completely independently based solely on the data provided to the `folio-init` state container.