

Component Demo

Standalone component demonstration

This is a demonstration of the `cover` component. It renders completely independently based solely on the data provided to the `folio-init` state container.